CAMP KINDA

A project of

Registration code for Harvard employees: HVD20

a different kind of camp for a different kind of summer

School's out—but in most places libraries are locked, parks are closed, camps are cancelled, and everyone's still home. Without something interesting for kids to do each day, it's going to be a long summer for everyone.

That's why we created Camp Kinda, a free virtual summer experience designed to keep kids in grades K-8 engaged, curious, and having fun, all summer long. It's like summer camp... kinda.

WEEKLY ADVENTURES

It won't feel like homework.
Or summer school.
We're exploring the stuff kids are most curious about.

FLEXIBLE DAILY PLAYLISTS

Do everything in one morning, spread things out around other summer activities, or pick and choose what you want.

ONLINE AND OFFLINE

Camp Kinda starts online but includes plenty of offline and outdoor activities.

BUILT FOR BUSY PARENTS

We'll do our best to ensure "a ton of help from adults" is not on the list.

History's Mysteries Week

How have codes been used throughout history to protect secrets and signal for help? Did the Bermuda Triangle really swallow whole ships? Could aliens have built the Great Pyramids? Find out this week at Camp Kinda, where we'll be focusing on History's Mysteries. By the end of the week, you'll have built a sun dial from scratch. You'll be communicating in secret codes, and counting using long-lost number systems. You'll have traveled the globe and gone back and forth in time...all from your home.
