

Natalie Beaumont-Smith oversees some of the programs offered through the Harvard's Office of Work/Life helping employees balance their working lives. She has been a part of the CCW Steering Committee for 8 years as Treasurer, Chair, and now University Liaison. Originally from Australia, she is a keen, competitive road cyclist.

Hillary Casavant has been a member of the Alumni Affairs and Development FAS Communications team since November 2014. As part of her work, she engages, stewards, and acknowledges Harvard College alumni and parents through both print and digital messages. She previously worked in publishing as an editor and writer for special interest magazines and joined CCW in winter of 2017 to broaden her connections at Harvard. In her spare time, Hillary paddle boards and works on her fiction writing.

Surabhi Chatterjee is a program coordinator in Harvard Human Resources, where she works with Amnery and Jennifer in the Planning and Program Management team. Surabhi manages programs in the Benefits, Work/Life, and Diversity offices where she focuses on implementation and delivery of university wide programs, events, and communications. Prior to joining the PPM team, Surabhi worked in the Harvard International Office and EdLabs in FAS. Surabhi is an avid dog lover and has dog sidekick Milo, who has superpowers.

Jennifer Cox is a coordinator in Harvard Human Resources where she is also a part of the Planning and Program Management team. As the program administrator for the Office of Labor and Employee Relations and Compensation, Jen coordinates complex university-wide negotiations, contract policy discussions and communications. Jen is passionate about writing, literature, and education. She is the Editor-In-Chief of Pocket Change Literary Magazine (and aspires to one day own a dog with superpowers).

Bridget Duffy handles the financial and logistical needs of the Women's Center and works with the staff and interns to ensure that the Women's Center runs smoothly. Bridget enjoys meeting the many students who come into the space and is constantly impressed by the variety of discussions that are a part of daily life at the Women's Center. She is always willing to jump into a discussion about music or things to do in Boston and beyond!

Letty Garcia is the Associate Director of the Leadership Initiative at Harvard Business School (HBS). In this capacity, she primarily focuses on program design and oversees the delivery of highly successful executive education programs. As an experienced executive coach, Ms. Garcia leverages her expertise in leadership development to effectively coach high-potential managers from a broad range of industries and professions. In her spare time, Letty can be found in jazz music settings around Boston and is a big fan of singing unintelligible jazz songs that sound great anyways.

Jennifer Jacobsen is Collection Development/Acquisition Archivist at the Harvard University Archives. She earned an M.S. in Library & Information Science with a concentration in archives from Simmons College in Boston, Massachusetts. Jenn is originally from the Midwest and came to Boston after living in Madrid, Spain. Yes, this librarian has a cat.

Teresa C. Malonzo is the Assistant Director for EEO/AA and Program Manager in the Office of the Assistant to the President for Institutional Diversity & Equity. Teresa has over 25 years of experience in higher education. Her interests are in compliance, community engagement, diversity and inclusion. Outside of work, Teresa is passionate about dancing and loves to attend salsa and flamenco performances where she provides real time golf tournament like commentary.

Eva Rosenberg is an alumna of the College, where she studied Women, Gender, and Sexuality, and currently runs community arts programming at the Harvard Ed Portal (part of Harvard Public Affairs & Communications). She lives in Somerville with her partner and cat and her interests include food and travel.

Amnery Saint-Hilaire joined the Harvard Human Resources office in 2012 and is a Coordinator in the Planning and Program Management team. In her role, Amnery focuses on HR functions like onboarding, preparing and maintaining personnel records, and supervision of contract and temporary hires. Amnery has a broad range of experience in general administration, finance, and human resources. Outside of work, Amnery is a big fan of Chappelle Show and can be found performing Chappelle's Rick James persona in Cambridge over weekends.

Kristen Uekermann has worked within Harvard Life Sciences for over ten years. She is currently the Assistant Director of Faculty and Academic Affairs in the Department of Stem Cell and Regenerative Biology. She joined the CCW steering committee in 2015 and has also served as the Co-Chair of the Joint Committee on the Status of Women at Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

Violetta Walker is the Manager of Finance and Administration for the Office of International Education where she oversees finance, human resources, general administration, summer domestic and international funding allocations, among other responsibilities. Prior to the OIP/OIE she worked at the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Violetta has traveled extensively throughout Europe and North Africa and lived and studied in London, Barcelona, and in several cities in Sweden. She is a native of Budapest, Hungary.

Kamille Washington is an alumna of the college and is currently the Program Manager for the FAS Office of International Affairs, where she is responsible for managing various parts of the department, including the program budget, special events for international visitors and delegations, and organization of key FAS international data and works collaboratively with international partners to execute project plans and complex schedules. Kamille is also a secret street fighter and can be found in dark alleys protecting the streets of Boston at night.
