Harvard’s Mission and Organization

• As America’s oldest and most venerable institution of higher learning, Harvard’s mission is to advance new ideas and promote enduring knowledge. Since its founding in 1636, Harvard has grown to include 11 degree-awarding schools along with our allied institutions, including the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, and the Central Administration.

• The schools are unified by a common purpose of education and research, but each develops leaders and positively impacts the world in its own way.

“If Harvard is first of all defined not by buildings or endowments or traditions but by people, we have an overriding interest in attracting to our community the most talented people we can find – as students, as faculty, as staff.”

Drew Gilpin Faust, President Emerita of Harvard University
Harvard has a special web page for contingent workers in the Program. It covers topics such as:

- Harvard overview
- Parking and campus safety tips
- Contingent worker policies (important to review)
- Harvard workplace policies that affect contingent workers
- How to get your HUID card (i.e., a “badge”) if needed
- How to get your Harvard Key (log in credential) if needed

https://hr.harvard.edu/contingent-workforce/workers
Building Access Badges (HUID Card)

• Depending on your job role, location and the length of your assignment, you may need a Harvard University ID Card (badge).
  • In order to have an ID card, you will first need an 8-digit HUID.
  • If needed, an HUID will be assigned to you and visible in Fieldglass.

• Do not share your badge with any other person or give anyone else access to buildings with your badge.

• Badge expiration dates may be extended if your assignment is extended. This is important to do well before your original expiration date if possible so your building and system access are not inadvertently cut off. Ask your Harvard manager, the Yoh PMO, or local staff who helped onboard you about how to get this change made.

• Badges MUST be returned via Campus Mail to the Yoh PMO the end of your assignment. Send to:

Creating a Timecard

- The work week is Sunday-Saturday.
- Time must be entered by Monday at 12PM EST and approved by your Harvard approver by Tuesday at 12PM EST. This must be done online in Fieldglass.
- Important: Log in to Fieldglass at https://www.fieldglass.net/login.jsp using the user name and password you obtained through your agency.
- DO NOT log into the Fieldglass from the Harvard HR website as Single Sign-On has been enabled there for Harvard users only. This is true even if you have a Harvard email or a Harvard Key.
- Connect with your manager to confirm your work schedule and obtain approval to work additional hours outside of standard hours, which are generally 35 hours per week. Overtime hours are any hours worked over 40 in a work week if your position is overtime eligible.
- Please read the Harvard policies for contingent workers here.
- Massachusetts workers are eligible for sick time. (You must be working for 120 days before using this benefit.)
  - After working 40 hours, employees accrue 1 hour of paid sick time for every 30 hours worked
- Please click here for instructions on how to enter time in Fieldglass.
Expense Reporting

- Approval is required from your Harvard manager before incurring expenses. They should be agreed to in advance by Harvard, and if significant, documented on the Work Order for your assignment.
- Be sure to save your receipts for all transactions. You may be asked to substantiate these expenses.
- Any expenses submitted must be incurred in the conduct of Harvard business and the lowest cost alternative must be used.
- All expenses and receipts will be entered into a Fieldglass Expense Sheet for Harvard manager approval – no more than 1 per week.
- Please click here for instructions on how to enter an expense report in Fieldglass.
