MEET YOUR FAMILY’S PERSONAL EDUCATION ADVISOR

Parenting is stressful—especially at times like these, with school happening at home, work to get done, and too much to worry about.

Now, you don’t have to do it alone. With EdNavigator, you’ll get a personal education advisor—a “Navigator”—who knows your local schools and can help you:

- Support remote and hybrid learning
- Understand your child’s learning needs and progress in school
- Ensure your child is ready for college or a fulfilling career
- Troubleshoot education challenges
- Find affordable summer camps, apps, and other educational resources

From grade school to graduation, we’ll be your guide.

Webinar - Intro to EdNavigator: Back-to-School and the Gradual Return to Normal
What will back-to-school look like this year? How do I know whether my child’s skills are on grade level after a year of pandemic schooling? What information matters most for my child to stay on track?

In this information session, we’ll introduce you to EdNavigator, a benefit available to you and your family through Harvard University Office of Work/Life, and offer concrete ways to build understanding of where your child’s skills are after an unprecedented year of schooling and keep your child on track this year. We’ll leave plenty of time for Q&A to ensure you walk away with some of the helpful and practical guidance that all families need in this complicated time for education!

Frequently Asked Questions

WHO ARE THE NAVIGATORS?
Navigators are education advisors for families. They include award-winning teachers, veteran principals, and experienced guidance counselors with deep knowledge of local school systems.

HOW CAN MY NAVIGATOR HELP ME AND MY FAMILY?
Whether you’re looking for more support for a child in school, searching for ways to make homework less stressful, or trying to keep a teenager on the path to college, your Navigator can provide expert guidance and hands-on support. Their job is to help you and your family achieve your educational goals.

WHICH TYPES OF STUDENTS CAN EDNAVIGATOR SUPPORT?
EdNavigator supports families with students of all ages but specializes in school-aged students in elementary, middle and high school. EdNavigator assists families and students in public, private and charter schools, including students who are struggling as well as those who are excelling.

HOW DO I ACCESS MY NAVIGATOR?
You can call or chat with your Navigator via the EdNavigator app, or meet confidentially in-person on Harvard’s campus (when it’s safe).

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER I SIGN UP?
After you download our app and create your account, you’ll be connected to a Navigator who can start answering your questions right away. Your Navigator will get to know you and your family and provide ongoing, expert help achieving your education goals.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?
EdNavigator is available at no cost to Harvard University staff and faculty.
