SUMMARY PLAN DESCRIPTION

Retiree Health and Welfare Plans

Effective January 1, 2018

This guide presents basic information about all the retiree health and welfare benefits provided by Harvard University (“Harvard” or the “University”) under the Harvard University Flexible Benefits Plan (the “Plan”), as of January 2018, and your rights to benefits as a Plan participant. The Plan is maintained for you and your eligible dependents, as long as you meet the eligibility requirements.

This is the Summary Plan Description (SPD) for your benefits under the Plan. This SPD and any separate Plan documents provided to you by Harvard or any of Harvard’s insurance carriers and vendors are intended to comply with the disclosure requirements set forth in regulations issued by the U.S. Department of Labor under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). Please refer to the applicable separate Plan documents for complete details on specific items such as benefits coverage, deductibles, copayments, definitions, coordination of benefits, waiting periods, exclusions, and limitations.

The SPD is based on a number of legal documents that may include policies, contracts, collective bargaining agreements, Plan documents, and trust agreements. Although the SPD is intended to be accurate, any differences between it and the legal documents will be governed by the legal documents.

Upon your retirement, your life insurance coverage will continue to be available to you until the June 30th following your 70th birthday if you satisfy at least one of the following conditions at the time you separate from the University:

- You meet the medical and dental eligibility rules outlined above.
- You are at least age 65.

If you retire as a faculty member or a non-hourly staff employee, your life insurance* coverage amount will be reduced by 35% effective on the July 1st following your 66th birthday.

Coverage for all retirees ends on the July 1st following your 70th birthday. You can port or convert the reduction amount of your policy at the time of reduction or cancellation.

If you are not eligible for retiree life insurance coverage, you have 31 days from your last day of employment to port or convert your University group Basic and/or Contributory Life Insurance coverage to individual coverage with MetLife, if you are eligible for such an individual policy. You will receive portability and conversion information soon after your retirement.

*Per IRS regulations, the imputed cost of coverage for Harvard's Basic Life Insurance in excess of $50,000 must be included in income, using the IRS Premium Table, and is subject to social security and Medicare taxes.

Enrollment

You should arrange to meet with a Harvard benefits consultant at least three months before your retirement date. You have a choice of medical plans after retirement, provided you meet the eligibility requirements.

Retiree Medical

As an eligible retiree or an eligible dependent of a retiree, you have several post-retirement medical plan options. Your coverage options depend on your age. The cost of your coverage depends on the date you retire from Harvard, the plan you are enrolled in, and your years of pension participation service.

Coverage

Eligible retirees can elect or drop coverage during the annual Open Enrollment period or as a result of an IRS-defined change in status. Contact the Benefits Office if you have questions on this.

If you elect family coverage at retirement, you may only cover yourself and the person who was your spouse or domestic partner at the time of your retirement and eligible dependent children.

1.2 Retirees under Age 65

Cost of Medical Coverage

The cost of coverage is based on the date you retire from Harvard, your years of pension participation service, and your employee classification at the time you retire.

Retired Faculty, Administrative/Professional Staff, and Nonunion Support Staff

You may choose from the plans offered to active employees. If you were continuously employed prior to January 1, 2014, you will pay the same rate as active employees based on your salary tier at the time of retirement. If you were hired or rehired on or after January 1, 2014, the amount you pay is based on your years of service.

If you worked a certain number of full years and fewer than six months, the months are dropped, and the University's contribution is based on the full years only. If you worked a number of full years and six months or more, the number of months is rounded up, and the University's contribution reflects the additional year.

If you are not eligible for Harvard medical coverage at retirement, you may have the option of continuing Harvard coverage through COBRA. For details, see Continuation of Health Care Benefits—COBRA in Section 6.1.

Staff Covered by a Collective Bargaining Agreement

SEIU Arboretum retirees and eligible dependents under age 65 will pay the same rate as active employees, based on your salary tier at the time of retirement. ATC, HUCTW, HUPA, HUSPMGU, Local 26, and SEIU Custodian retirees hired before January 1, 2016, will pay the same rate as active employees, based on your salary tier at the time of retirement; for those hired or rehired on or after January 1, 2016, your rates are based on your years of service.

If you worked a certain number of full years and less than six months, the months are dropped and the University's contribution is based on the full years only. If you worked a number of full years and six months or more, the number of months is rounded up, and the University's contribution reflects the additional year.

If you are not eligible for Harvard medical coverage at retirement, you may have the option of continuing Harvard coverage through COBRA. For details, see Continuation of Health Care Benefits—COBRA in Section 6.1.

Medical Plan Options for Retirees under Age 65

If you retire before age 65, you are offered the same medical plans that are available to active employees in your employee classification, and you share in the cost of the coverage.

Faculty and nonunion staff; HUCTW members who retired prior to July 5, 2011; and other union members who retired prior to September 4, 2014, have a choice between three types of medical plan options through Harvard University Group Health Plan (HUGHP) and Harvard Pilgrim Health Care (HPHC):

1. Health Maintenance Organization (HMO)
2. Point of Service (POS)
3. High-Deductible Health Plan (HDHP)

Members of HUCTW who retired on or after July 5, 2011, and members of ATC, Local 26, HUPA, HUSPMGU, or SEIU who retired on or after September 4, 2014, have a choice between two types of medical plan options through HUGHP and HPHC:

1. Health Maintenance Organization (HMO)
2. Point of Service (POS)

Members of Dumbarton Oaks and the Center for Hellenic Studies have a choice between the following medical plan options through Kaiser Permanente or CareFirst:

1. Health Maintenance Organization (HMO)
2. Preferred Provider Organization (PPO)

If you are a retiree under age 65 and were a member of SEIU Arboretum or Local 26 and you reside outside Massachusetts, you also have the choice of a Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) through HPHC.

If your spouse/domestic partner and/or a dependent is also under age 65, you remain in the Harvard medical plan with a family membership.

Within three months of reaching age 65, you (or your spouse/domestic partner) should apply for Medicare Parts A and B. At the same time, Harvard will send you a letter requesting a copy of your Medicare card and asking you to select a senior medical plan. The letter contains information to assist you with your selection; additional information is available by contacting the Benefits Office at 617-496-4001.

Prescription Drug Coverage

Prescription drug coverage is included with your enrollment in a Harvard-sponsored medical plan. It is administered by OptumRx.

The following is a brief summary of the medical and prescription drug coverage. For more detailed information, refer to the Plan documents or contact the Plan Administrator.

1.3 Retirees over Age 65

Cost of Medical Coverage

The cost of coverage is based on the date you retire from Harvard, your years of pension participation service, and your employee classification at the time you retire.

Retired Faculty, Administrative/Professional Staff, and Nonunion Support Staff Age 65 and Older and Hired Prior to January 1, 2014

If you retired before January 1, 1996, you and any eligible dependents over age 65 have no monthly premium.

If you retired on or after January 1, 1996, the University contributes a percentage of the group Medex rate and applies that dollar amount to the plan you choose. The University's contribution percentage is based on your years of participation service, with the subsidy rate as follows:

If you meet eligibility requirements for post-retirement medical	The University contributes	Years of service required to receive the maximum subsidy
by December 31, 2018 (and have no breaks in service after December 31, 2013)	50% to 80% of the cost of Medex toward coverage for you and your eligible spouse/domestic partner and/or eligible dependent children	20 years of service

Your prescription drug benefit is included as part of your medical plan premium and is administered by OptumRx, a pharmacy benefits manager. Upon initial enrollment in a Harvard-sponsored retiree medical plan, you will receive instructions for accessing prescription drug services. Prescription drug coverage has three copayment tiers, with most generic medications having the lowest copayment.

The prescription drug coverage is a Medicare Part D plan. If you enroll in another Medicare Part D plan, your enrollment in Harvard's retiree medical coverage will end.

1.4 Retiree Dental

If you meet the eligibility requirements for post-retirement health coverage, you and your spouse/domestic partner (and eligible dependent children, if any) may participate in the retiree Delta Dental Plan.

You have two opportunities to enroll in retiree dental coverage:

- You may enroll in the benefit at the time of retirement.
- If you defer enrolling in retiree medical coverage at the time you retire, you may also defer your enrollment in retiree dental coverage. At the time that you later enroll in medical coverage, you can also enroll in retiree dental coverage.

If you do not choose to enroll at one of these two times, you will not be able to do so later. You may cancel your dental coverage during any Open Enrollment period, with an effective date of the following January 1. Or, if you experience an IRS-defined change in status during the year, you may cancel your coverage within 30 days of the change in status. If you cancel retiree dental coverage, you will not be able to re-enroll at a later date.

2. HOW DO I FILE OR APPEAL A CLAIM?

For in-depth information on how to file or appeal a benefits claim, please review this section.

2.1 ERISA Claims Procedures for Health Plans

Claiming Benefits

A health plan benefits claim is a request for a Plan benefit or benefits, made by a covered employee/dependent or their representative, that complies with the Plan's reasonable procedure for making benefit claims. A claim for benefits may be a request for a coverage determination, for pre-authorization or approval of a Plan benefit, or for a utilization review determination in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

Post-Service Claims

Post-Service Claims are those claims that are filed for payment of benefits after health care has been received. If your Post-Service Claim is denied, you will receive a written notice from the Plan Administrator within 30 days of receipt of the claim, as long as all needed information was provided with the claim. The Plan Administrator will notify you within this 30-day period if additional information is required to process the claim, and may request a one-time extension not longer than 15 days and put your claim on hold until all information is received.

Once notified of the extension, you have 45 days to provide this information. If all the requested information is received within the 45-day time frame and the claim is denied, the Plan Administrator will notify you of the denial within 15 days after the information is received. If you do not provide the requested information within the 45-day period, your claim will automatically be denied.

Pre-Service Claims

Pre-Service Claims are those claims that require notification or approval prior to receiving health care. If your claim was a Pre-Service Claim and was submitted properly with all necessary information, you will receive written notice of the claim decision (whether or not adverse) from the Plan Administrator within 15 days of receipt of the claim. If you filed a Pre-Service Claim improperly, the Plan Administrator will notify you of the improper filing and how to correct it within 15 days of receipt of the Pre-Service Claim. You will be given at least 45 days from the receipt of this notice to correct your claim.

The Plan Administrator will notify you of its determination within 15 days after the claim is received, unless the Plan Administrator determines, in its discretion, that special circumstances require an extension of time for processing the claim. If an extension of time is required, a written or electronic extension notice indicating the special circumstances requiring the extension of time and the date by which the Plan Administrator expects to render a decision shall be furnished to you prior to the end of the initial 15-day period. If the extension is necessary because of your failure to provide missing information and you are notified of that fact, the extension shall not exceed a period of 15 days beginning on the earlier of (1) the date the missing information is received by the Plan Administrator or (2) the end of the period afforded to you to provide the missing information. Otherwise, the extension shall not exceed 15 days from the end of the initial 15-day period.

If all the requested information is received within the 45-day time frame, the Plan Administrator will notify you of the determination within 15 days after the information is received. If you do not provide the requested information within the 45-day period, your claim will be denied.

Urgent Care Claims That Require Immediate Action

Urgent Care Claims are those claims that require notification or approval prior to receiving medical care, where a delay in treatment could seriously jeopardize your life or health or the ability to regain maximum function, or, in the opinion of a doctor with knowledge of your health condition, could cause severe pain. In these situations, you will receive notice of the benefit determination (whether or not adverse) in writing or electronically as soon as possible, but not later than 72 hours after the Plan Administrator receives all necessary information, taking into account the seriousness of your condition.

If you filed an Urgent Care Claim improperly, the Plan Administrator will notify you of the improper filing and how to correct it within 24 hours after the Urgent Care Claim was received. If additional information is needed to process the claim, the Plan Administrator will notify you of the information needed within 24 hours after the claim was received. You then have 48 hours to provide the requested information.

You will be notified of a determination no later than 48 hours after:

- the Plan Administrator's receipt of the requested information or
- the end of the 48-hour period within which you were to provide the additional information, if the information is not received within that time.

Concurrent Care Claims

If an ongoing course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and your request to extend the treatment is an Urgent Care Claim as defined above, your request will be processed by the Plan Administrator within 24 hours of the receipt of your request, provided your request is made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment. If your request for extended treatment is not made at least 24 hours prior to the end of the approved treatment, the request will be treated as an Urgent Care Claim and processed according to the time frames described above.

If an ongoing course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and you request to extend treatment in a nonurgent circumstance, your request will be considered a new claim and processed according to post-service or pre-service time frames, whichever applies.

If an ongoing course of treatment was previously approved for a specific period of time or number of treatments, and the Plan Administrator reduces or terminates such course of treatment (other than by Plan amendment or termination) before the end of such period of time or number of treatments, the Plan Administrator shall notify you before the course of treatment is reduced or terminated (sufficiently in advance of the termination or reduction to allow you to appeal the decision and obtain a determination upon review of the decision).

Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination

If a claim is wholly or partially denied, or if a rescission of coverage occurs (each, an “Adverse Benefit Determination”), the Plan Administrator will furnish the Plan participant with a written notice of the Adverse Benefit Determination. The written notice will contain the following information:

- (a) the specific reason or reasons for the Adverse Benefit Determination;
- (b) specific reference to those Plan provisions on which the Adverse Benefit Determination is based;
- (c) a description of any additional information or material necessary to correct the claim and an explanation of why such material or information is necessary;
- (d) appropriate information as to the steps to be taken if a Plan participant wishes to submit the claim for review;
- (e) in the case of an Adverse Benefit Determination by the Plan:
 - if an internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion was relied upon in making the Adverse Benefit Determination, either (1) the specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion, or (2) a statement that such a rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion was relied upon in making the Adverse Benefit Determination and that a copy of such rule, guideline, protocol, or other criterion will be provided free of charge to the participant upon request; or
 - if the Adverse Benefit Determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, either (1) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination, applying the terms of the Plan to the participant’s medical circumstances, or (2) a statement that such explanation will be provided free of charge upon request; and
- (f) in the case of an Adverse Benefit Determination by a group health plan concerning a claim involving urgent care, a description of the expedited review process applicable to such claims.

In the case of an Adverse Benefit Determination, the Plan must:

- (a) ensure that any notice of Adverse Benefit Determination includes information sufficient to identify the claim involved (including the date of service, the health care provider, and the claim amount if applicable) and provide notice of the opportunity to request the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning, and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning;
- (b) ensure that the reason or reasons for the Adverse Benefit Determination include the denial code and its corresponding meaning, as well as a description of the group health plan’s standard, if any, that was used in denying the claim;
- (c) provide a description of available internal appeals and external review processes, including information regarding how to initiate an appeal; and
- (d) disclose the availability of, and contact information for, any applicable office of health insurance consumer assistance or ombudsman established under Section 2793 of the Public Health Service Act to assist individuals with the internal claims and appeals and external review processes.

Appealing a Denied Claim

If you disagree with a claim determination after following the above steps, you can contact the Plan Administrator in writing to formally request an appeal. In your appeal, you may submit written comments, documents, records, and other information relating to your claim for benefits. You shall be provided, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to your claim for benefits. The review of your claims shall take into account all comments, documents, records, and other information you submit, without regard to whether such information was submitted or considered in the initial benefit determination. With respect to a claim for benefits under a group health plan, the Plan will identify, upon request to the Plan Administrator, any medical experts whose advice was obtained on behalf of the Plan in connection with your Adverse Benefit Determination, without regard to whether the advice was relied upon in making the benefit determination.

If the appeal relates to a claim for payment, your request should include:

- the patient's name and the identification number from the ID card,
- the date(s) of service(s),
- the provider's name,
- the reason you believe the claim should be paid, and
- any documentation or other written information to support your request for claim payment.

You may appeal any denial of a claim within 180 days of receipt of such a denial by submitting a written request for review to the Plan Administrator.

The review of your appeal shall not afford deference to the initial Adverse Benefit Determination and shall be conducted by an appropriate named fiduciary of the Plan who is neither the individual who made the Adverse Benefit Determination that is the subject of the appeal nor the subordinate of such individual. In deciding an appeal that is based in whole or in part on a medical judgment, including determinations with regard to whether a particular treatment, drug, or other item is experimental, investigational, or not medically necessary or appropriate, the appropriate named fiduciary shall consult with a health care professional who has appropriate training and experience in the field of medicine involved in the medical judgment and who is neither an individual who was consulted in connection with the Adverse Benefit Determination that is the subject of the appeal nor the subordinate of any such individual.

In the case of a claim involving urgent care, you are entitled to an expedited review process pursuant to which:

- you may submit a request for an expedited appeal of an Adverse Benefit Determination orally or in writing, and
- all necessary information, including the Plan's benefit determination on review, shall be transmitted between the Plan and the participant by telephone, facsimile, or other available similarly expeditious method.

The Plan must provide the claimant, free of charge, with any new or additional evidence considered, relied upon, or generated by the Plan (or at the direction of the Plan) in connection with the claim; such evidence must be provided as soon as possible and sufficiently in advance of the date on which the notice of final internal Adverse Benefit Determination is required to be provided (see “Timing of Notification of Benefit Determination on Review,” below) to give the claimant a reasonable opportunity to respond prior to that date.

Before the Plan can issue a final internal Adverse Benefit Determination based on a new or additional rationale, the claimant must be provided, free of charge, with the rationale; the rationale must be provided as soon as possible and sufficiently in advance of the date on which the notice of final internal Adverse Benefit Determination is required to be provided (see “Timing of Notification of Benefit Determination on Review,” below) to give the claimant a reasonable opportunity to respond prior to that date.

Any determination by the Plan Administrator or any authorized delegate shall be binding and final in the absence of clear and convincing evidence that the Plan Administrator or delegate acted arbitrarily and capriciously.

Timing of Notification of Benefit Determination on Review

For the purposes of this section, the period of time within which a benefit determination on review is required to be made shall begin at the time an appeal is filed, without regard to whether all the information necessary to make a benefit determination on review accompanies the filing. If a period of time is extended, as permitted below, due to your failure to submit information necessary to process a claim, the period for making the benefit determination on review shall be counted from the date on which the notification of the extension is sent to you until the date on which you respond to the request for additional information.

Appeal Process

A qualified individual who was not involved in the decision being appealed will be appointed to decide the appeal. If your appeal is related to clinical matters, the review will take place in consultation with a health care professional with appropriate expertise in the field who was not involved in the prior determination. The Plan Administrator may consult with, or seek the participation of, medical experts as part of the appeal resolution process. You hereby consent to this referral and the sharing of pertinent health claim information. Upon request and free of charge, you have the right to reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to your claim for benefits.

Appeal Determinations

Pre-Service and Post-Service Claim Appeals

You will be provided with written or electronic notification of the decision on your appeal as follows:

For appeals of Pre-Service Claims (as defined above), the first-level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Plan Administrator of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. The second-level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Plan Administrator of the decision within 15 days from receipt of a request for review of the first-level appeal decision.

For appeals of Post-Service Claims (as defined above), the first-level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Plan Administrator of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for appeal of a denied claim. The second-level appeal will be conducted, and you will be notified by the Plan Administrator of the decision within 30 days from receipt of a request for review of the first-level appeal decision.

For procedures associated with Urgent Care Claims, see “Urgent Care Claim Appeals That Require Immediate Action,” below.

If you are not satisfied with the first-level appeal decision of the Plan Administrator, you have the right to request a second-level appeal from the Plan Administrator. Your second-level appeal request must be submitted to the Plan Administrator within 15 days of the receipt of the first-level appeal decision.

Please note that the Plan Administrator’s decision is based only on whether or not benefits are available under the Plan for the proposed treatment or procedure. The determination as to whether the pending health service is necessary or appropriate is between you and your doctor.

Urgent Care Claim Appeals That Require Immediate Action

Your appeal may require immediate action if a delay in treatment could significantly increase the risk to your health or the ability to regain maximum function or cause severe pain. In these urgent situations, the appeal does not need to be submitted in writing. You or your doctor should call the Plan Administrator as soon as possible. The Plan Administrator will provide you with a written or electronic determination within 72 hours following receipt of your request for review of the determination, taking into account the seriousness of your condition.

The Plan Administrator has the exclusive right to interpret and administer the provisions of the Plan. The Plan Administrator’s decisions are conclusive and binding. The Plan Administrator has final claims adjudication authority under the Plan.

Manner of Notification of Final Internal Adverse Benefit Determination

The Plan Administrator shall provide a participant with written or electronic notification of a Plan’s benefit determination on review. In the case of an Adverse Benefit Determination, the notification shall set forth, in a manner calculated to be understood by the participant:

- (a) the specific reason or reasons for the Adverse Benefit Determination;
- (b) reference to the specific Plan provisions on which the Adverse Benefit Determination is based;
- (c) a statement that the participant is entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the participant’s claim for benefits;
- (d) a statement describing any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the Plan and the participant’s right to obtain the information about such procedures;
- (e) a statement of the participant’s right to bring an action under Section 502(a) of the Act; and

(f) the following information:

- if an internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion was relied upon in making the Adverse Benefit Determination, either (1) the specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion, or (2) a statement that such rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion was relied upon in making the adverse determination and that a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion will be provided free of charge to the participant upon request;
- if the Adverse Benefit Determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, either (1) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination, applying the terms of the Plan to the participant's medical circumstances, or (2) a statement that such explanation will be provided free of charge upon request; and
- the following statement: "You and your Plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your local U.S. Department of Labor Office and your state insurance regulatory agency."

In the case of an Adverse Benefit Determination, the Plan must:

- (a) ensure that any notice of final internal Adverse Benefit Determination includes information sufficient to identify the claim involved (including the date of service, the health care provider, and the claim amount if applicable), the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning, and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning;
- (b) ensure that the reason or reasons for the final internal Adverse Benefit Determination include the denial code and its corresponding meaning, as well as a description of the group health plan's standard, if any, that was used in denying the claim (this description must also include a discussion of the decision);
- (c) provide a description of available internal appeals and external review processes, including information regarding how to initiate an appeal; and
- (d) disclose the availability of, and contact information for, any applicable office of health insurance consumer assistance or ombudsman established under Section 2793 of the Public Health Service Act to assist individuals with the internal claims and appeals and external review processes.

External Review

In the case of a final internal Adverse Benefit Determination, you may be entitled to request an independent, external review of our decision. If your situation is urgent, you may be entitled to an expedited external review.

More information about your external review rights, including the time frame and procedure for requesting an external review, will be provided to you in the Notice of Final Internal Adverse Benefit Determination.

2.2 ERISA Claims Procedures for All Other Welfare Plans

If your claim is wholly or partially denied, the Plan Administrator will provide you with a written notification, which will include (1) the specific reasons for the denial; (2) reference to the specific Plan provisions upon which the denial is based; (3) a description of any additional information necessary for you to perfect your claim, with an explanation of why the information is needed; and (4) a description of the Plan's claim review procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures, including a statement of your right to bring a civil action under Section 502(a) of ERISA following a denial of benefits on review.

A written claim denial will be sent to you within 90 days after receipt of the claim by the Plan. The 90 days may be extended for up to another 90 days if special circumstances warrant an extension of time.

If such an extension is needed, you will be notified in writing prior to the end of the initial 90-day period. The extension notice will indicate the special circumstances requiring an extension of time and the date by which the Plan expects to render a decision.

You, your beneficiary (when an appropriate claimant), or a duly authorized representative may appeal any denial of a claim for benefits by filing a written request for a full and fair review of your claim to the Plan Administrator. In connection with such a request, you may submit written comments, documents, records, and other information relating to your claim for benefits. You shall also be provided, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to your claim for benefits.

A document, record, or other information shall be considered “relevant” to your claim if such document, record, or other information:

- (a) was relied upon in making the benefit determination;
- (b) was submitted, considered, or generated in the course of making the benefit determination, without regard to whether such document, record, or other information was relied upon in making the benefit determination; or
- (c) demonstrates compliance with the administrative processes and safeguards within these claims procedures in making the benefit determination.

The review of your claim will take into account all comments, documents, records, and other information you submit relating to your claim, without regard to whether such information was submitted or considered in the initial determination of your claim.

You may have representation throughout the review procedure.

A request for review must be filed within 60 days of your receipt of the written notice of denial of a claim. The full and fair review will be held and a decision rendered by the Plan Administrator no later than 60 days after receipt of the request for review.

If there are special circumstances (such as the need to hold a hearing), the decision will be made as soon as possible, but not later than 120 days after receipt of the request for review. If such an extension of time is needed, you will be notified in writing prior to the end of the initial 60-day period.

The extension notice will indicate the special circumstances requiring an extension and the date by which a decision is expected to be reached. The decision with respect to your review will be provided in writing and will include specific reasons for the decision; specific references to the pertinent Plan provisions on which the decision is based; a statement that the claimant is entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the claimant’s claim for benefits; and a statement of the claimant’s right to bring an action under Section 502(a) of ERISA.

4. WHAT ARE MY RIGHTS UNDER ERISA?

As a participant in the Plan, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under ERISA, which are detailed in this section.

4.1 Description of ERISA Rights

Receive Information about Your Plan and Benefits

If you participate in the Plan, ERISA provides that you shall be entitled to:

- examine, without charge, at the Plan Administrator’s office and at other specified locations, such as worksites and union halls, all documents governing the Plan, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) filed by the Plan with the U. S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA);
- obtain, upon written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of documents governing the operations of the Plan, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated SPD (the Plan Administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies);
- receive a summary of the Plan’s annual financial report (the Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant with a copy of the summary annual report).

Continue Group Health Plan Coverage

In certain instances, you will be entitled to continue health care coverage for yourself and your spouse/domestic partner or dependents if there is a loss of group health plan coverage under the Plan as a result of a qualifying event (as described in further detail in Section 6.1). You or your dependents may have to pay for such coverage. Harvard's group health plans include the medical/dental portions of the Harvard University Flexible Benefits Plan (Plan No. 501) and the Harvard University Medical Reimbursement Program (Plan No. 506).

Domestic partners (same-sex and opposite-sex) are not considered qualified beneficiaries under COBRA. However, Harvard extends rights similar to COBRA to eligible domestic partners.

You should review this SPD and the documents governing the Plan for information on the rules governing your COBRA continuation coverage rights.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the employee benefit plan. The people who operate your Plan, called “fiduciaries” of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of the Plan participants and beneficiaries. No one, including your employer, your union, or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a welfare benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a welfare benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have a right to know why, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of Plan documents or the latest annual report from the Plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent due to reasons beyond the control of the Plan Administrator. If you have a claim for benefits that is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a domestic relations order or a medical child support order, you may file suit in federal court. If Plan fiduciaries should happen to misuse the Plan's money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a federal court.

The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees—for example, if it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance with Your Questions

If you have any questions about your Plan, contact the Benefits Office at 617-496-4001. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, you should contact the nearest office of the EBSA, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory or on the U.S. Department of Labor's website (www.dol.gov/ebsa), or the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, EBSA, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue N.W., Washington, DC 20210. You may also obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications hotline of the EBSA or visiting www.dol.gov/ebsa.

5. WHAT ELSE DO I NEED TO KNOW?

Review this section for important administrative information about the Plan.

5.1 Sources of Plan Contributions and Election of Benefits

Contributions for certain benefits under the Plan may be made solely by participating employers or solely by participating employees. Some of the benefits require joint contributions from participating employees and participating employers. The requirements governing election of and payment for any benefits available to participating employees are described in the Plan.

5.2 Third-Party Liability

The Plan provides payment for covered expenses if you or your dependents are ill or injured. However, if a third party (person or organization) is at fault for the illness or injury and you or your covered dependents bring a claim against the third party, you must reimburse the Plan for any Plan-paid benefits immediately after you collect damages. The Plan will be reimbursed in full from any judgments, insurance policy proceeds, or settlement before any amounts from such judgment, proceeds, or settlements, including attorneys' fees you incur, are paid to any other person, regardless of the manner in which the recovery is structured.

The Plan may file a lien against the third party, or the third-party's agent or with the court, and you agree to consent to such lien. You must take any reasonable actions necessary to protect the Plan's subrogation and reimbursement rights, including notifying the Plan Administrator if and when you or your covered dependents file a lawsuit or other action or enter into a settlement negotiation with another party (including his or her insurance company) in connection with the conduct of such party. You must cooperate with the Plan's reasonable requests concerning its subrogation and reimbursement rights and must keep the Plan Administrator informed of any developments in any legal actions or settlement negotiations. You also agree that the Plan may withhold any future benefits paid by the Plan to the extent necessary to reimburse the Plan under its subrogation and reimbursement rights.

The Plan is subrogated to all the rights you may have against any third party, including an insurance company, liable for your injury or illness or for the payment for the medical treatment of such injury or illness up to the value of the benefits provided to you under the Plan. The Plan may assert its subrogation rights independently. You will cooperate with the Plan and its agents to protect these subrogation rights by, among other things, providing the Plan with relevant information that it requests, signing and delivering such documents as the Plan may reasonably require to secure its rights, and obtaining the Plan's consent before releasing any party from liability for payment. Any litigation or settlement negotiations will be undertaken so as to not prejudice, in any way, the Plan's subrogation rights.

Contact your insurer or consult your Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Benefit Handbook or your Blue Cross Blue Shield Benefits Description (Massachusetts only) for details on your medical plan's right to recover benefits on behalf of yourself or your dependents.

5.3 Additional Documentation

The Plan Administrator will furnish the following documentation without charge as a separate document:

- upon request, a description of the Plan's procedures for qualified medical child support orders;
- upon request, provider lists/directories for the applicable health provider networks utilized by the Plan; and
- automatically, claims procedures for medical and disability benefits to the extent such procedures change prior to the next revision of this SPD.

5.4 Agent for Service of Legal Process

Legal process may be served on the Plan Administrator.

If a legal summons is to be served on the Plan, it should be directed to:

Harvard University
Office of Human Resources
114 Mount Auburn Street, 4th Floor
Cambridge, MA 02138
617-496-4001

6. REQUIRED NOTICES

6.1 Continuation of Health Care Benefits—COBRA

A federal law known as “COBRA” requires that most employers sponsoring group health plans offer employees and their families (“qualified beneficiaries”) the opportunity to elect and pay for a temporary extension of health coverage, called “continuation coverage,” at group rates in certain instances (“qualifying events”) where coverage under the employer’s Plan would otherwise end. This notice is intended to inform you, in a summary fashion, of your rights and obligations under the continuation coverage provisions of that law. (Both you and your spouse should take time to read this notice carefully.)

If you are an employee of Harvard or one of the participating employers (the “Employer”) covered by a group health plan maintained by Harvard (the “Health Plan”), you have a right to choose this continuation coverage if you lose your group health coverage because of a reduction in your hours of employment or the termination of your employment (for reasons other than gross misconduct on your part).

If you are the spouse of an employee covered by the Health Plan, you have the right to choose continuation coverage for yourself if you lose group health coverage under the Health Plan for any of the following four reasons:

- (a) the death of your spouse;
- (b) your spouse’s separation from employment (for reasons other than gross misconduct) or reduction in your spouse’s hours of employment with the Employer;
- (c) divorce or legal separation from your spouse; or
- (d) your spouse’s becoming entitled to Medicare.

In the case of a dependent child of an employee covered by the Health Plan, he or she has the right to choose continuation coverage if group health coverage under the Health Plan is lost for any of the following five reasons:

- (a) the death of the employee;
- (b) the employee’s separation from employment (for reasons other than gross misconduct) or reduction in the employee’s hours of employment with the Employer;
- (c) the employee’s divorce or legal separation;
- (d) the employee’s becoming entitled to Medicare; or
- (e) the dependent’s ceasing to be a “dependent child” under the Health Plan.

Rights similar to those described above may, in certain instances, apply to retirees, spouses, and dependents if Harvard is involved in a proceeding under Title 11, United States Code, and those individuals lose health coverage as a result of that proceeding.

Under the law, the employee or a family member has the responsibility to inform Harvard of a divorce, a legal separation, or a child's losing dependent status under the Health Plan within 60 days of the later of the date of such event or the date on which coverage would be lost because of such event. Failure to do so within the time limits will result in loss of eligibility for COBRA continuation. Harvard has the responsibility to notify the Plan Administrator of the employee's death, separation from employment, reduction in hours, or Medicare entitlement.

If you lose coverage because of a qualifying event, you have at least 60 days from the date you lost coverage to inform Harvard that you wish to elect continuation coverage. If you do not elect continuation coverage on a timely basis, your group health coverage will end. If you elect continuation coverage, Harvard is required to permit you to elect and purchase coverage that, as of the time coverage is being provided, is identical to the coverage provided under the Health Plan to similarly situated employees or family members. The law requires that you be afforded the opportunity to maintain continuation coverage for 36 months unless you lost group health coverage because of a termination of employment or reduction in hours. In that case, the required continuation coverage period is 18 months. This 18 months may be extended to 36 months from the date employment terminated or hours were reduced if a second event entitling you to choose continuation coverage (such as death, divorce, legal separation, ceasing to be a dependent child, or Medicare entitlement) occurs within that 18-month period.

The 18 months may be extended to 29 months if a qualified beneficiary is determined by the Social Security Administration (for purposes of Title II [Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance] or Title XVI [Supplemental Security Income] of the Social Security Act) to have been disabled at any time during the first 60 days of COBRA continuation coverage. This 11-month extension is available to all individuals who are qualified beneficiaries due to a termination in employment or reduction in hours. To benefit from this extension, the qualified beneficiary must notify Harvard of the Social Security Administration's determination within 60 days of such a determination and before the end of the original 18-month period of continuation coverage. The qualified beneficiary must also notify the Employer within 30 days of the date of any final determination by the Social Security Administration that the individual is no longer disabled. Furthermore, the monthly premium cost to such a qualified beneficiary during the 11-month extension will be increased to 150% of the applicable premium relating to continuation coverage.

A child who is born to or placed for adoption with the covered employee during a period of COBRA continuation coverage will be eligible to become a qualified beneficiary. In accordance with the terms of the Health Plan and the requirements of federal law, these qualified beneficiaries can be added to COBRA continuation coverage upon proper notification of the Plan Administrator within 60 days of the birth or adoption.

However, the law also provides that your continuation coverage may be cut short for any of the following five reasons:

- (1) Harvard no longer provides group health coverage to any of its employees;
- (2) the premium for continuation coverage is not paid on a timely basis;
- (3) the qualified beneficiary becomes covered—after the date he or she elects COBRA coverage—under any other group health plan (as an employee or otherwise);
- (4) the qualified beneficiary becomes entitled to Medicare after the date he or she elects COBRA coverage; or
- (5) the qualified beneficiary extends coverage for up to 29 months due to a disability, and there has been a final determination that the individual is no longer disabled.

You do not have to show that you are insurable to choose continuation coverage. However, as discussed above, you will have to pay all the required premiums for your continuation coverage.

Failure to pay any required premium on a timely basis will result in the permanent termination of continuation coverage.

The law also says that, at the end of the 18-month, 29-month, or 36-month continuation coverage period, you must be allowed to enroll in an individual conversion health plan if such an individual conversion health plan is otherwise generally available under the Health Plan.

Continuation coverage under COBRA is provided subject to the qualified beneficiary's eligibility for coverage. The Plan Administrator reserves the right to terminate your COBRA continuation coverage retroactively if you are determined to be ineligible.

You also may have other options available to you when you lose group health plan coverage. For example, you may be eligible to buy an individual plan through the health insurance marketplace. By enrolling in coverage through the marketplace, you may qualify for lower monthly premiums and lower out-of-pocket costs. Additionally, you may qualify for a 30-day special enrollment period for another group health plan for which you are eligible (such as a spouse's or domestic partner's plan), even if that plan generally does not accept late enrollees.

If You Have Questions about COBRA or the Marketplace

If you have questions about COBRA continuation coverage, you should contact the Benefits Office at 617-496-4001, or you may contact the nearest Regional or District Office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA). Addresses and phone numbers of Regional and District EBSA Offices are available through EBSA's website at www.dol.gov/ebsa. For more information about the marketplace, visit www.healthcare.gov.

Keep Your Plan Informed of Any Address Changes

In order to protect your family's rights, you should keep the Plan Administrator informed of any changes in the addresses of family members. You should also keep a copy, for your records, of any notices you send the Plan Administrator.

Administration of COBRA/Contact Information

The Plan Administrator is responsible for administering COBRA. Notices that you are required to send to the Plan Administrator should be sent to Crosby Benefit Systems, P.O. Box 414944, Boston, MA 02241-4944, to whom the Plan Administrator has delegated this responsibility.

6.2 Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA)

Under GINA, an insurance provider or your employer may not discriminate against you on the basis of genetic information, including by adjusting premiums and contribution amounts.

6.3 Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) Notice of Special Enrollment Rights

If you are declining enrollment for yourself or your dependents (including your spouse or domestic partner) because of other health insurance or group health plan coverage, you may be able to enroll yourself and your dependents in the Harvard University Medical Plan or in the medical insurance coverage offered under the Harvard University Global Benefits Plan if you or your dependents lose eligibility for that other coverage (or if the employer stops contributing toward your or your dependents' other coverage). Generally, you must request enrollment within 30 days after your or your dependents' other coverage ends (or after the employer stops contributing toward the other coverage); however, if your or your dependents' other coverage is Medicaid or the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), you must request enrollment within 60 days after your or your dependents' Medicaid or CHIP coverage ends.

In addition, if you have a new dependent as a result of marriage, creation of a domestic partnership, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption, you may be able to enroll yourself and your dependents. However, you must request enrollment within 30 days after the marriage, creation of the domestic partnership, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption. To request special enrollment or to obtain more information, contact the Benefits Office at 617-496-4001.

6.4 HIPAA Notice of Privacy Practices

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully. A copy of this notice can also be found on hr.harvard.edu.

You are receiving this notice because you are a member of one or more of the following Plans: the Harvard University Medical Plan, the Harvard University Dental Plan, the Harvard University Vision Plan, and/or the Harvard University Medical Reimbursement Plan (each a "Plan" and collectively the "Plans").

Harvard University (the "Employer" or the "University") is committed to protecting the privacy of health information maintained by the Plans and by outside vendors who perform services for the Plans. The Plans are required by law to protect the privacy of certain health information that may reveal your identity ("protected health information" or "PHI") and to provide you with a copy of this notice, which describes the Plans' health information privacy practices. If you have any questions about this notice or would like further information about this notice, please contact the Harvard Benefits Privacy and Security Official named on page 47.

Generally, PHI includes all individually identifiable health information concerning you that is maintained by the Plans, including genetic information. PHI does not include health information that is held by the University in its role as your employer (for example, health information held for purposes of your employment records). "Unsecured PHI" is PHI that is not secured through the use of a technology or methodology that renders the PHI unusable, unreadable, or indecipherable.

PHI uses and disclosures by the Plans are regulated by a federal law called the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (referred to as "HIPAA") and the regulations that enforce HIPAA, as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act of 2009 ("HITECH"). You may find these regulations at 45 Code of Federal Regulations Parts 160 and 164.

This notice does not apply to certain information that may be used and disclosed by the Employer and other third parties without notice and without your authorization. For instance, the Employer and the Employer's consultants and contractors may use and disclose information contained in your employment records held by the Employer in its role as employer, including information regarding pre-employment health testing. In addition, the Employer and the Employer's consultants and contractors may use and disclose information concerning benefits that are not part of the Plans, such as disability and life insurance, without notice and without your authorization. This information is not covered by HIPAA privacy regulations or this notice.

SUMMARY OF PERMISSIBLE USES AND DISCLOSURES AND YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

The following is a summary only, for your convenience. Please read the entire notice for a more complete description of the Plans' privacy practices and your rights.

1. Requirement of Written Authorization

A Plan will obtain your written authorization before using your health information or sharing it with others outside the Plan except as otherwise described in this notice or as otherwise permitted by law. In that regard, the Plans must obtain your written authorization for any use or disclosure of psychotherapy notes, except in some very limited circumstances (e.g., for the Plans to defend themselves in legal proceedings brought by you, for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to determine the Plans' compliance with HIPAA, or to avert a serious and imminent threat to public health or safety). Also, without your written authorization, the Plans cannot receive direct or indirect financial remuneration for the sale of your PHI, unless an exception applies (such exceptions include certain public health activities, your treatment, services by a business associate on behalf of the Plans, or providing you with a copy of your PHI). If you provide a Plan with written authorization, you may revoke that authorization by notifying the Plans' privacy and security official at any time, except to the extent that the Plan has already relied on it. To revoke an authorization, please write to the privacy and security official named on page 47.

Except as otherwise permitted or required, as described in this notice, the Plans may not use or disclose your PHI without your written authorization. Any use or disclosure of PHI pursuant to such authorization must be consistent with that authorization.

2. Exception to Written Authorization

As indicated above, there are some situations in which a Plan will not require your written authorization before using your health information or sharing it with others. Some examples of those situations are as follows:

- Payment and Health Care Operations. A Plan may use and disclose your health information in connection with paying claims or running the Plan's normal business operations. Payment and health care operations include a Plan's disclosures to business associates that perform certain services for the Plan or act on behalf of the Plan. In connection with any disclosure to a business associate, a Plan will obtain an appropriate agreement from the recipient of your information in order to restrict further redisclosure to the extent required by law. The Plans' business associates are required to agree, in writing, to maintain the confidentiality of the health information to which they are provided access and to notify the Plans in the event of a breach of your unsecured PHI. The Plans also may disclose PHI to employees of the Employer if those employees assist in carrying out treatment, payment, and health care operations, provided that the PHI is used for these purposes. Nonetheless, the Plan cannot use or disclose genetic information that is PHI for underwriting purposes.
- Disclosures to the Employer. A Plan may disclose certain aspects of your health information to the Employer as the sponsor of the Plan. A Plan, however, will restrict the Employer's uses of your information to purposes related only to the Plan's administration. The Plans prohibit the Employer from using your information for employment-related actions or decisions (e.g., for terminating your employment). The Employer or a Plan may also disclose your information to another party that assists the Employer in administering the Plan or performs other functions for the Employer in connection with the Plan, but only if the Employer obtains an appropriate confidentiality agreement from the person or organization receiving your health information.
- Emergencies or Public Need. A Plan may use or disclose your health information in an emergency or in response to important public needs. For example, a Plan may share your information if necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public.
- Information That Does Not Identify You. A Plan may use or disclose your health information if the Plan has removed any information that might reveal who you are (in which case the information is not covered by this notice), or for certain limited purposes if the Plan has removed most information revealing who you are and obtained a confidentiality agreement from the person or organization receiving your health information.

3. Access and Control of Your Health Information

The Plans must provide you certain rights with respect to access and control of your health information. A substantial part of your health information is likely to be maintained by one or more business associates of the Plans, and not by the Employer. If your request pertains to information that is maintained by a business associate that is a third-party administrator of your benefits (for example, Crosby Benefit Systems, Inc.), you should make your request directly to such third-party administrator. The Benefits Office will provide you with contact information at your request and can help you determine to whom your request should be addressed. You have the following rights to access and control your health information:

- Access. You generally have the right to inspect and copy your health information in a designated record set (i.e., the group of records maintained by the Plans used to make decisions about you, such as records of enrollment, payment, claims adjudication, and case or medical management records). This right of access does not extend to psychotherapy notes, information compiled for legal proceedings, laboratory results to which the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Act prohibits access, or information held by certain research laboratories.

- Amendments. You have the right to request that a Plan amend your health information regarding Plan records (for example, billing records) if you believe it is inaccurate or incomplete.
- Tracking the Ways Your Health Information Has Been Shared with Others. You have the right to receive a list from a Plan, called an “accounting list,” which provides information about how the Plan has disclosed your health information to outside persons or organizations during the relevant accounting period (see discussion below). Many routine disclosures a Plan makes, including certain disclosures to your Employer for the purposes of administering the Plan, will not be included on this list (but such disclosures made through electronic health records will be on the list).
- Additional Privacy Protections. You have the right to request further restrictions on the way a Plan uses your health information or shares it with others. A Plan or other HIPAA “covered entity” (including a health care provider) is not required to agree to the restriction you request (unless the requested restriction is for a health care provider not to disclose to a health plan information regarding health care services for which you [or someone on your behalf other than the Plans] have paid the full cost out of your own pocket); but if the Plan does agree, the Plan will be bound by the agreement.
- Confidential Communications. You have the right to request that a Plan contact you in a way that is more confidential for you, such as at work instead of at home, if disclosure of your health information could put you in danger and you clearly state that in your request. A Plan will try to accommodate all reasonable requests.

4. To Have Someone Act on Your Behalf

Under certain circumstances, you may have the right to name a personal representative who can act on your behalf to control the privacy of your health information.

5. Copies of Notice

If you have received this notice electronically, you have the right to a paper copy of this notice if you have not already received one. You may request a paper copy at any time, even if you have previously agreed to receive this notice electronically. A Plan will be required by law to abide by its terms that are currently in effect. However, a Plan also may change its privacy practices from time to time. If that happens, the Plan will revise this notice so you will have access to an accurate summary of the Plan’s privacy practices. The revised notice will apply to all your health information maintained by the Plan. To request a paper copy of this notice or any revised notice, please call the privacy and security official named on page 47.

6. Complaints

If you believe your privacy rights with regard to a Plan have been violated, you may file a complaint with the Plan or with the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. To file a complaint with a Plan, please contact the privacy and security official. No one will retaliate or take action against you for filing a complaint.

WHAT HEALTH INFORMATION IS PROTECTED?

The Plans are committed to protecting the privacy of your PHI. This notice only covers health information that can identify you and that has been created or received by or for a Plan. Some examples of PHI are:

- information regarding payment for your health care;

- information about your health condition (such as your diagnosis); and
- information about health care services you have received or may receive in the future (such as surgery or prescriptions).

Identifying information includes any unique numbers or characteristics (such as your name, address, Social Security number, phone number, or health plan beneficiary number as listed on claims forms).

HOW A PLAN MAY USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION WITHOUT YOUR WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION

1. Payment and Health Care Operations

A Plan may use and disclose most health information about you to make payments and perform health care operations without your written authorization. Your information may also be disclosed to other persons or organizations outside a Plan so that they may perform certain types of payment activities and health care operations along with, or for, the Plan. In addition, a Plan may use or disclose PHI for payment and health care operations that these persons or organizations have received or created about you. Below are further examples of how your information may be used and shared.

- Payment. A Plan may use and disclose your health information for payment purposes. For example, a Plan may use and disclose your health information for purposes of paying for your health care services or to obtain Plan contributions or premiums from you. Other examples include using and disclosing your health information to make determinations about your eligibility for benefits, to perform claims management (including, but not limited to, appeals of denied claims), to review the medical necessity or the appropriateness of the care you received, to obtain payment under a stop-loss insurance policy, and to conduct utilization reviews such as pre-authorizations or reviews of services. In addition, a Plan may disclose your health information to the Employer for these purposes.
- Health Care Operations. A Plan may use and disclose your health information to conduct normal business operations. For example, a Plan may use your health information to evaluate performance in managing and providing you with health care benefits. A Plan also may use and disclose your health information to investigate the validity of benefits claims or in connection with obtaining stop-loss insurance. In addition, a Plan may share your health information with another company that performs certain services, such as billing, compiling information, or performing audits or quality assessment to help the Plan determine how the Plan is performing relative to other health plans. Whenever a Plan has such an arrangement, it will have an appropriate agreement to ensure that the company that performs these services will protect the privacy of your health information, maintain its confidentiality, and limit the uses or further disclosures to the purpose for which the information was disclosed or to those required by law. In addition, the Employer may receive and disclose your health information to third parties for health care operations if the Employer has obtained an appropriate agreement from the person or organization receiving your health information.

- Benefits and Services. As part of health care operations, a Plan may use your health information to contact you regarding benefits or services that may be of interest to you where the Plan will not be receiving any direct or indirect financial remuneration in connection with such contact; receipt of such remuneration by a Plan will require your written authorization, and you will have the right to opt out of receiving such contacts. Furthermore, you will have the right to opt out of receiving any fundraising communications (within the meaning of HIPAA) from the Plans.

2. Employer

A Plan may disclose certain aspects of your health information to the Employer, as described above. Upon a request from the Employer, a Plan may disclose summary health information about you (information that identifies you only by zip code) to enable the Employer to modify, amend, or terminate the Plan. A Plan may also disclose to the Employer information on whether you are participating in, enrolled in, or disenrolled from the Plan. A Plan also may disclose health information about you, including information that identifies you, if it is necessary for the Employer to administer the Plan. For example, the Employer may need such information to process health benefits claims (including the review of denied claims), to audit or monitor the business operations of a Plan, to obtain stop-loss insurance and stop-loss insurance recoveries, or to ensure that the Plan is operating effectively and efficiently. A Plan, however, will restrict the Employer's uses of this information to purposes related only to Plan administration. The Plans prohibit the Employer from using PHI received from the Plans for uses unrelated to Plan administration. Under no circumstances will a Plan disclose your health information to the Employer for the purpose of employment-related actions or decisions (e.g., for employment termination) or for the purpose of administering any other plan that the Employer may offer (e.g., a plan that is not part of any Plan). The Employer may only allow this health information to be received by third parties, such as consultants or advisers, if the Employer has first obtained an appropriate agreement from the person or organization receiving your health information.

3. Emergencies or Public Need

A Plan may use your health information, and share it with others, in an emergency or to respond to important public needs. A Plan will not be required to obtain your written authorization or any other type of permission before using or disclosing your information for these reasons:

- As Required by Law. A Plan may use or disclose your health information if the Plan is required by law to do so. A Plan also will notify you of these uses and disclosures if notice is required by law.
- Emergencies or Public Need. A Plan may use or disclose your health information in an emergency or in response to important public needs. For example, a Plan may share your information with public health officials authorized to investigate and control the spread of diseases. A Plan may also share information about you as necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public. In such cases, a Plan will only share your information with someone able to help mitigate the threat.
- Public Health Activities. A Plan may disclose your health information to authorized public health officials so they may carry out their public health activities. For example, a Plan may disclose your health information to government officials who are responsible for controlling disease, injury, or disability. A Plan may also disclose your health information to a person who may have been exposed to a communicable disease or be at risk for contracting or spreading the disease if a law permits the Plan to do so.

- Health Oversight Activities. A Plan may disclose your PHI to government agencies authorized to conduct audits or investigations of the Plan.
- Lawsuits and Disputes. A Plan may disclose your health information if the Plan is ordered to do so by a court that is handling a lawsuit or other dispute. A Plan may also disclose your information in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful request by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to inform you about the request or to obtain a court order protecting the information from further disclosure.
- National Security and Intelligence Activities or Protective Services. A Plan may disclose your health information to authorized federal officials who are conducting national security and intelligence activities, or providing protective services to the president of the United States or other important officials.
- Military and Veterans. If you are in the Armed Forces, a Plan may disclose health information about you to appropriate military command authorities for activities they deem necessary to carry out their military mission. A Plan may also release health information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.
- Workers' Compensation. A Plan may disclose your health information to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to workers' compensation or similar programs that provide benefits for work-related injuries.
- Other Uses and Disclosures. While federal law allows health plans to use and disclose plan members' information for treatment purposes and for other purposes to benefit the public (e.g., for scientific research) without members' authorization, the Plans do not currently use or disclose their members' information in these ways.

4. Disclosures to Friends, Family, and Others Involved in Your Care and Payment for Your Care

In the exercise of its professional judgment, a Plan may share information about your health benefits with those involved in your care or payment for your care unless you object. If you have provided your family members or friends with copies of your claim, your Harvard University ID number, or other relevant identifying information, a Plan will assume that you do not object unless you notify the privacy and security official otherwise.

5. Completely De-identified or Partially De-identified Information

A Plan may use and disclose your health information if the Plan has removed any information that has the potential to identify you so that the health information is “completely de-identified.” A Plan may also use and disclose “partially de-identified” health information about you for public health and research purposes, or for business operations, if the person who will receive the information signs an agreement to protect the privacy of the information as required by federal and state law. Partially de-identified health information will not contain any information that would directly identify you (such as your name, street address, Social Security number, telephone number, fax number, email address, website address, or license number).

YOUR RIGHTS TO ACCESS AND CONTROL YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

The Plans want you to know that you have the following rights to access and control your PHI. These rights are important because they will help you make sure that the health information the Plans have about you is accurate. They may also help you control the way the Plans use or share your information, or the way the Plans communicate with you about benefits matters.

A substantial portion of your health information is maintained by one or more business associates of the Plans, and not by the Employer. If your request pertains to information that is maintained by a business associate that is a third-party administrator of your benefits (for example, Crosby Benefits Systems, Inc.), you should make your request directly to such third-party administrator. The Harvard Human Resources Benefits Office will provide you with contact information at your request and can help you determine to whom your request should be addressed. You have the following rights to access and control your health information:

1. Right to Inspect and Copy Records

You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of your PHI that may be used to make decisions about you and the provision of your health care benefits for as long as a Plan maintains this information in a designated record set. This includes records relating to payment of your health care benefits. As discussed above, certain exceptions apply to this right. To inspect or obtain a copy of your health information, please submit your request in writing to the privacy and security official or contact the appropriate third-party administrator. If you request a copy of the information, a Plan may charge a reasonable fee for the costs of copying, mailing, or other supplies the Plan uses to fulfill your request. If your PHI is in an electronic health record, you may request that the electronic health record be electronically sent in a readily producible form and format to you (or an individual you designate) and state where it is to be sent. Any costs to you for such electronic delivery will be limited to the labor costs for sending that record.

A Plan ordinarily will respond to your request within 30 days if the information is located at the Employer, and within 60 days if it is located off-site at another facility. If a Plan needs additional time to respond, the Plan will notify you in writing within the time frame above to explain the reason for the delay and when you can expect to have a final answer to your request.

Under certain limited circumstances, a Plan may deny your request to inspect or obtain a copy of your information. If a Plan denies part or all of your requests, the Plan will provide a written denial that explains the reasons for doing so, and a complete description of your rights to have that decision reviewed and how you can exercise those rights. The Plan will also include information on how to file a complaint with the Plan or with the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. If a Plan has grounds to deny your access to part of the health information requested, the Plan will do its best to provide you with access to the rest of the information after excluding the parts the Plan cannot let you inspect or copy.

2. Right to Request to Amend Records

If you believe that the health information a Plan has about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may ask the Plan to amend the information. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept in the Plan's records. To request an amendment, please write to the privacy and security official or contact the appropriate third-party administrator. Your request should include the reasons why you think the Plan should make the amendment. Ordinarily a Plan will respond to your request within 60 days. If a Plan needs additional time to respond, the Plan will notify you in writing within 60 days to explain the reason for the delay and when you can expect to have a final answer to your request.

If a Plan denies part or all of your requests, the Plan will provide a written notice that explains the reasons for doing so. You will have the right to have certain information related to your requested amendment included in your records. For example, if you disagree with a Plan's decision, you will have an opportunity to submit a statement explaining your disagreement, which the Plan will include in your records. A Plan will also include information on how to file a complaint with the Plan or with the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. These procedures will be explained in more detail in any written denial notice the Plan sends you.

3. Right to an Accounting of Disclosures

You have a right to request an "accounting of disclosures," which is a list detailing how a Plan has shared your PHI during a relevant accounting period (six years before the date of that request for nonelectronic PHI, three years before the date of that request for electronic PHI to carry out treatment, payment and health care operations) with others. An accounting list, however, will not include:

- disclosures the Plan made to you;
- disclosures the Plan made in order to provide you with benefits or conduct the Plan's normal business operations (i.e., Plan administration), including those disclosures made to business associates of the Plan, except for disclosures through electronic health records;
- disclosures to the Employer for purposes related to administration of the Plan, except for disclosures through electronic health records;
- disclosures made to your friends and family involved in your care or payment for your care;
- disclosures of information that only indirectly identifies you (for example, through dates but not by name); or
- disclosures not made during the relevant accounting period.

To request an accounting list, please write to the privacy and security official or contact the appropriate third-party administrator. Your request must state a time period within the past six years for the disclosures you want a Plan to include (but three years for electronic health records to carry out treatment, payment, and health care operations). You have a right to one accounting list within every 12-month period for free. However, a Plan may charge you for the cost of providing any additional lists in that same 12-month period. A Plan will always notify you of any cost involved so that you may choose to withdraw or modify your request before any costs are incurred.

Ordinarily a Plan will respond to your request for an accounting list within 60 days. If a Plan needs additional time to prepare the accounting list you have requested, the Plan will notify you in writing about the reason for the delay and the date when you can expect to receive the accounting list. In rare cases, a Plan may have to delay providing you with the accounting list without notifying you because a law enforcement official or government agency has asked the Plan to do so.

4. Right to Additional Privacy Protections

You have the right to request that a Plan further restrict the way the Plan uses and discloses your health information to provide you with benefits or to run normal business operations. You may also request that a Plan limit how the Plan discloses information about you to those involved in your care where, absent such a limitation, the Plan may share your health information with family and friends involved in your care or payment for your care without your written authorization. For example, you could request that a Plan not disclose information about a prescription drug you are taking. To request restrictions, please write to the privacy and security official or contact the appropriate third-party administrator. Your request should include (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit how a Plan uses the information, how the Plan shares it with others, or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply.

A Plan is not required to agree to your request for a restriction in all cases (but see above for the Plan's obligation to agree to requested restrictions relating to services for which you or someone on your behalf other than the Plans have paid the full cost out of your own pocket); in some cases, the restriction you request may not be permitted under law. However, if a Plan does agree, the Plan will be bound by its agreement unless the information is needed to provide you with emergency treatment or comply with the law. Once a Plan has agreed to a restriction, you have the right to revoke the restriction at any time. Under some circumstances, a Plan will also have the right to revoke the restriction as long as the Plan notifies you before doing so; in other cases, a Plan will need your permission before the Plan can revoke the restriction.

5. Right to Request Confidential Communications

You have the right to request that a Plan communicate with you about your benefits matters in a method or location that is more confidential for you if the disclosure of part or all of your health information could put you in danger and you clearly state that in your request. For example, you may ask that a Plan contact you at work instead of at home. To request confidential communications, please write to the privacy and security official or contact the appropriate third-party administrator. A Plan will try to accommodate all reasonable requests. Please specify in your request how or where you wish to be contacted, and how payment for your health care will be handled if a Plan communicates with you through this alternative method or location.

To find out how to contact any Plan business associates who may have your health information, please contact the privacy and security official.

7. Right to Receive Notification in the Event of a Breach

You have the right to be notified following a breach of your unsecured PHI. If such a breach occurs, you will be notified within the time and in the manner required by HIPAA.

8. Limitation of Use and Disclosures to Minimum Necessary Standard

Until the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services releases further guidance regarding the minimum necessary standard, a Plan will limit disclosures and uses of PHI to the information contained in a limited data set. However, if it is not practicable for a Plan to limit its use or disclosure of PHI to a limited data set, then a Plan will make reasonable efforts not to use, disclose, or request more than the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the intended purpose of the use, disclosure, or request, taking into consideration practical and technological limitations.

However, the minimum necessary standard will not apply in the following situations:

- disclosures to or requests by a health care provider for treatment purposes;
- uses or disclosures made to you;
- uses or disclosures authorized by you;
- disclosures made to the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services;
- uses or disclosures that are required by law; and
- uses or disclosures that are required by the Plans' compliance with legal requirements.

9. De-identified Information, Limited Data Sets, and Summary Information

This notice does not apply to health information that has been de-identified. De-identified information is information that does not identify an individual (i.e., you) and with respect to which there is no reasonable basis to believe that the information can be used to identify you.

In addition, the Plans may use or disclose information in a limited data set, provided that the Plans enter into a data use agreement with the limited data set recipient that complies with the federal privacy regulations. A limited data set is PHI that excludes certain direct identifiers relating to you and your relatives, employers, and household members.

The Plans may disclose “summary health information” to the University without your authorization if the University requests the summary information for the purpose of obtaining premium bids from health plans for providing health insurance coverage under the Plans, or for modifying, amending, or terminating the Plans. “Summary health information” means information that summarizes the claims history, claims expenses, or types of claims experienced by individuals for whom the University has provided health benefits under the Plans, and from which most identifying information has been deleted. The Plans may also disclose to the University information on whether an individual is participating in the Plans and the coverage in which an individual has enrolled.

10. Your Protections under Other Federal and State Law

We are required to provide this notice of privacy practices to you pursuant to HIPAA. This notice does not address requirements under other federal laws or under state laws. However, if other federal laws and/or state laws are stricter than the HIPAA privacy laws, the other federal and/or state laws must be followed. To the extent that this notice is in conflict with the HIPAA privacy rules, the HIPAA privacy rules shall govern.

6.5 Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008 (MHPAEA)

If any medical insurance option under the Plan (1) provides for both medical and surgical benefits and mental health or substance use disorder benefits and (2) is not subject to an increased cost exemption (within the meaning of the MHPAEA), the following conditions apply:

- The health insurance option may not apply annual or lifetime limits for mental health or substance use disorders that are lower than those for medical and surgical benefits.
- The medical insurance option may not apply more restrictive financial requirements or treatment limitations to mental health or substance use disorder benefits in any classification than the predominant limitations applied to substantially all of the medical and surgical benefits in any classification.
- The criteria for medical necessity determinations made under any health insurance option with respect to mental health or substance use disorder benefits shall be made available by the Plan Administrator (in accordance with the MHPAEA) to any current or potential participant upon request.
- The reason for any denial under the Plan or reimbursement or payment for services with respect to mental health or substance use disorder benefits in the case of any participant shall, on request or as otherwise required under the MHPAEA, be made available by the Plan Administrator to the participant in accordance with the claims procedures applicable to the group medical coverage feature.
- The Plan shall be operated and construed in all respects in compliance with the MHPAEA.

“Mental health benefits” and “substance use disorder benefits” are defined in the medical benefit contract applicable to the medical insurance option, pursuant to applicable state and federal law, and consistent with generally recognized standards of current medical practice.

6.6 Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act (NMHPA) Statement

Group health plans and health insurance issuers generally may not, under federal law, restrict benefits for any hospital length of stay in connection with childbirth for the mother or newborn child to less than 48 hours following a vaginal delivery, or less than 96 hours following a cesarean section. However, federal law generally does not prohibit the mother's or newborn's attending provider, after consulting with the mother, from discharging the mother or her newborn earlier than 48 hours (or 96 hours as applicable). In any case, plans and issuers may not, under federal law, require that a provider obtain authorization from the Plan or the insurance issuer for prescribing a length of stay not in excess of 48 hours (or 96 hours).

6.7 Notice of Right to Designate a Primary Care Provider

Certain coverage options under the Harvard University Medical Plan require the designation of a primary care provider. (The medical insurance coverage offered under the Harvard University Global Benefits Plan does not require the designation of a primary care provider.) If you enroll in one of those coverage options under the Harvard University Medical Plan, you will be required to designate a primary care provider for yourself and each enrolled family member at the time you enroll. If you elect any of these coverage options under the Harvard University Medical Plan, you have the right to designate any primary care provider who participates in the applicable provider network and who is available to accept you or your family members. Until you make this designation, the applicable coverage option designates one for you. For information on how to select a primary care provider, and for a list of the participating primary care providers, contact HUGHP (617-495-2008), HPHC (888-333-4742), Kaiser Permanente (855-249-5018), CareFirst/BlueCross BlueShield (888-567-9155), Blue Cross Blue Shield Medex (800-882-1093), or Tufts Medicare Preferred HMO (800-936-1902) for information, as applicable.

For children, you may designate a pediatrician as the primary care provider.

You do not need prior authorization from the Harvard University Medical Plan or the Harvard University Global Benefits Plan or from any other person (including a primary care provider) in order to obtain access to obstetrical or gynecological care from a health care professional in our network who specializes in obstetrics or gynecology. The health care professional, however, may be required to comply with certain procedures, including obtaining prior authorization for certain services, following a pre-approved treatment plan, or following procedures for making referrals. For a list of participating health care professionals who specialize in obstetrics or gynecology, contact HUGHP (617-495-2008), HPHC (888-333-4742), Kaiser Permanente (855-249-5018), CareFirst/BlueCross BlueShield (888-567-9155), Blue Cross Blue Shield Medex (800-882-1093), Tufts Medicare Preferred HMO (800-936-1902), or MetLife Expatriate Benefits (call the telephone number of the Regional Service Center shown on your MetLife Expatriate Benefits ID card) for information, as applicable.

6.8 Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA)

USERRA provides for continuation of health care coverage if you are called for active duty military service. Except to the extent that greater benefits are provided by Harvard, the maximum length of extended coverage under USERRA is the lesser of:

- 24 months beginning on the date that the military leave begins or
- a period beginning on the day that the leave began and ending on the day after your re-employment application deadline.

If your military leave does not exceed 31 days, you will not be required to pay more than your share of the premium toward the extended coverage. If the leave is 31 days or more, then you will be required to pay the full premium cost, plus an additional 2% administration fee. If you return to covered employment after a military leave has ended, your medical coverage will be reinstated. You will not have to provide proof of good health or satisfy any waiting periods that might otherwise apply. However, exclusions or limitations may apply to an illness or injury (as defined by the Veterans Administration) incurred as a result of the military service.

6.9 Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act (WHCRA) Notices

The Harvard University Medical Plan and the medical insurance coverage offered under the Harvard University Global Benefits Plan, as required by the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA), provide benefits for mastectomy-related services, including all stages of reconstruction and surgery to achieve symmetry between the breasts, prostheses, and complications resulting from a mastectomy, including lymphedema.

If you have had or are going to have a mastectomy, you may be entitled to certain benefits under WHCRA. For individuals receiving mastectomy-related benefits, coverage will be provided, in a manner determined in consultation with the attending physician and the patient, for:

- all stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed;
- surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance;
- prostheses; and
- treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema.

The benefits will be provided subject to the same deductibles and coinsurance applicable to other medical and surgical benefits provided under the Harvard University Medical Plan or the medical insurance coverage offered under the Harvard University Global Benefits Plan, as applicable. Therefore, the deductibles and coinsurance described in the materials provided to you by HUGHP, HPHC, Kaiser Permanente, CareFirst/BlueCross BlueShield, Blue Cross Blue Shield Medex, Tufts Medicare Preferred HMO, or MetLife Expatriate Benefits, as the case may be, apply. If you would like more information on WHCRA benefits, call HUGHP (617-495-2008), HPHC (888-333-4742), Kaiser Permanente (855-249-5018), CareFirst/BlueCross BlueShield (888-567-9155), Blue Cross Blue Shield Medex (800-882-1093), Tufts Medicare Preferred HMO (800-936-1902), or MetLife Expatriate Benefits (call the telephone number of the Regional Service Center shown on your MetLife Expatriate Benefits ID card), as applicable.
